

HOW TO LOCATE & CHOOSE A HOMEOPATHIC PRACTITIONER

LOCATE PRACTITIONERS

Use the NCH Find a Practitioner directory to locate someone in your area by state or zip code. If you don't find a practitioner in your area, consider a virtual consultation. Many practitioners meet with clients online via Zoom, Skype, or Google Meet.

SEEK REFERRALS

Ask for referrals from friends, family, study group members, and others in the holistic wellness community.

ASK QUESTIONS

Determine if a practitioner is a good fit for you and your family. Potential practitioner questions might include:

How long have you been in practice?

What proportion of your practice is homeopathy?

Where were you trained?

What do you charge?

Will my insurance cover any part of my visit?

Have you had experience with my health concern?

How often will we meet?

NCH's FREE Find a Practitioner Directory contains listings for practitioners who practice homeopathy exclusively or as part of a broader practice.

www.homeopathycenter.org

© 2024 National Center for Homeopathy

NCH is not a referral service, and our directory does not constitute any NCH endorsement of a particular practitioner. NCH Professional Members voluntarily participate in the online directory and each Professional Member supplies the information presented therein. Consult your medical doctor about all health-related concerns. For severe or life-threatening conditions, seek emergency care or dial 911.